

Cassie Byram

Cassie Byram began her professional career in entertainment at the age of 19. An award winning actress, singer, and songwriter, Cassie's career encompasses theater, film, television, voice-overs, published songwriting and multiple album releases for adults and children alike.

Her many stage roles include Marguerite in The Scarlet Pimpernel, Christine in Phantom of the Opera, the Narrator in Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, and Maria in West Side Story for which she received an Outstanding Achievement in Theater Award for Best Actress.

For two years, Cassie guest-starred on the T.V. series, Jake and the Fat Man. She co-starred in the pilot episodes of Star Trek: Deep Space Nine, Journey to the Center of the Earth and Civil Wars. You can also see her in the feature film, The Time Changers with Gavin MacLeod and Jennifer O'Neil.

Cassie is featured singing the solo "If I Loved You" in the film City Hall starring Al Pacino, and was honored to work with the legendary film director, Hayao Miyazaki as the featured soloist in the classic animated film, Totoro.

Cassie is the Executive Creative Producer for Oodles World, a company creating and developing high quality, faith based products and entertainment to the ever-growing family marketplace.

Her latest project is TreasureToons, a series of animated lyric scripture songs with music from her Lifetime Scripture Songs album, Wonderfully Made. Each scripture song is fully animated to engage and capture children's hearts with God's Word.

"The scripture songs I've written along with the TreasureToons project are my way of blending faith and career through music and animation. One of the greatest gifts for me personally was collaborating on these projects with my sons and my husband."

Cassie describes her greatest accomplishments as being a wife and proud mother of her two boys.
